

Perfect Conditions

Fashion

It is of course a tunnel

Charlie who owned the shop had to lay off Ernie. The trend continued as young men seldom got their hair cut, and then in the new "styling" emporiums in the shopping center. Charlie took to depression in his chair and had to be roused by Bill Fennery to give him a haircut. Charlie complained all thorough it, threatening ot give up barbering, and Bill suggested he look for a sideline.

When Bill showed up for his next haircut, Charlie was studying the manual for a course in small appliance repair he had jjust started at the nightschool.

bloom goes off the rose shop cluttered

chair in for repair after he sold one after letting other barber go asks guy to sit on old tincan tv admiral you're lightweight after diet guy full of oa etc talk joke about transformer etcin beast then right conditions occur for elec travel guy's leg, then simult short in razor which he ordin didn t use

and they're zapped

describe tunnel

not life before eyes but instruments of it --cars magically floatling briefcases sizzors razors appliances --smaller object the faster it turns doesn't look at barber right away also they both confer down tunnel , scream at each other, million to one, billion to one-- eyebrows singed off

You dumb fuck!

I couldn't help it. It's life. You can't help it.
It does things to you you can't help!

But short term.. usually.